Savings Fund 60 is a mixed fund that invests between and within European fixed income markets and global equity markets. The fund may have high exposure to individual regions and countries.

100 % of the assets can be invested in funds, primarily in Swedbank Robur funds.

The fund normally invests 60 % in equity funds and 40 % in fixed-income funds, the distribution normally varies by plus/minus 5 percentage points. The fund manager monitors and assesses the market situation on an ongoing basis and actively rebalances the holdings when the fund deviates from its given risk level.

Recommendation: This fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their investment within 3 years.

Risk and reward profile

The risk and reward profile shows the correlation between risk and possible returns of investing in the fund. The indicator is based on the highest of the maximum risk level the fund can reach, and the risk indicated by the latest five years' price movements. This is classified internally as a category 4 fund, which indicates the fund has a medium-to-high risk that unit share value will increase or decrease. Category 1 does not imply that the fund is risk free. The fund risk class may change over time.

The fund's split between equities/equity funds, interest/bond funds and fund selection affects the risk within the fund. Equities are generally exposed to higher risks, as stock market prices can fluctuate widely.

Material risks in the fund that are not fully reflected in the risk/return indicator include:

- Concentration risk. The concentration of investments can be significant from time to time within individual countries and regions, which increases the risk in the fund.
- Credit Risk. Investments in securities issued by companies and states increase the risk in the fund.
- Currency risk. Investments in currencies other than the Euro mean that the fund is affected by exchange rate fluctuations.
- As the fund only uses derivatives to a limited extent, the risk profile of the fund is affected to a certain degree. The use of derivatives can vary from time to time.
